

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

The National Association of Christian Women Entrepreneurs (NACWE) serves, connects, and equips Christian women with an entrepreneurial spirit. NACWE's written resources offer readers influential inspiration and practical information to foster success in business.

Got a success story to share? We want to hear.

We love success stories. We want to hear about your personal journey to success—not just the how, but the why. We're also seeking nominations of successful and influential Christian women who demonstrate a high level of entrepreneurial spirit. What wise, inspirational woman would you like to glean insights from?

Got an idea for a story? Tell us about it.

We appreciate all story ideas. Let us hear your ideas, concepts, or cutting-edge strategies on how to grow and develop businesses and you may be profiled or quoted in upcoming features. When you email your ideas, please use a bullet-point format as much as possible.

Seeking an opportunity for publication? Send us your articles.

We're currently seeking submissions for our blog, website, and our upcoming quarterly resource magazine. We're looking for in-depth, practical, and how-to information written in a conversational, entertaining style.

We're considering new columnists. If you have a great idea for a column, query us and convince us you are the person to write it and that our readers will love it. Also, these existing columns are open for submissions:

- What's New: A monthly industry watch column featuring current issues and trends.
- Expert Profiles:
- Member Profiles:
- Ask NACWE: A Q&A column about marketing, business development, social networking, public relations, etc.
- Celebrated Entrepreneur: Snapshots of successful Christian women in business.

We also feature guest bloggers. If you are interested in a guest post, please contact us.

Submit completed articles pasted into the body of an email. No attachments, please. All articles should be between 700-1500 words. Please double-space your manuscript. Include your name, postal address, email and website address, and phone number. Tell us the purpose of your piece and your qualifications to write it. Please include a short bio with a professional photo.

Please note: The editorial staff reserves the right to edit submissions for clarity (grammatical incorrectness, writing quality, etc.) and to delete or add content to make articles fit space requirements. We also reserve the right to reject any manuscript at any stage. We require first rights and online rights. We will consider limited reprints, but please inform us of prior publication dates and location.

At this point, there is no remuneration but we do include a short bio with your article.

Where do I send in my articles/ideas?

Email all submissions/queries to joannfore@msn.com with "NACWE Submission" in the subject line.

Have a great resource you want to share? Do tell.

We will accept limited products/books for review. NACWE assumes no responsibility for products received. Submit products for review to: PO Box 5071, Johnson City, TN 37602. Please include promotional material.
