Tools you will use to accomplish your goals

My fifteen-year journey of studying and teaching the personalities has grown me as a powerful mobilizer. I've learned to temper my pointing, soften my tone, and dress to be more inviting as a speaker. As a writer, I capture my audience's attention by using easy to understand words, adding stories, showing my research and always making a point. As a board certified Christian life coach I guide my clients, specific to their personalities, resulting in higher goals reached in a shorter time-frame.

My personal relationships have grown to a deeper level as a result of understanding and acting on the personalities. Now it's your turn. I hope you're ready to connect with others in ways you've never done before!
